If understanding correctly as an investor with Income Store that at this point in time you are only receiving objections to claims process and that we aren't to complete any claim as of now?? Just want to make sure I don't miss my opportunity to submit claim.

Also, question on why the employee's would have right to claim? We, the investors are the ones that essentially paid them and kept them in a job as long as they had one. I have to believe many or all of them knew that things weren't adding up but yet they still feel they should be compensated.

Thanks,
